HARDING'S FIRST YEAR IS LAUDED BY CONGRESSMAN

TOOK CHARGE WITH RELATIONS WITH OTHER NATIONS STRAINED TO BREAKING POINT

NOW ALL IS PEACEFUL WITH AMERICA ASSUMING MORAL LEADERSHIP OF WORLD

(By United Press.) Washington, March 2.—"One year of Warren G. Harding," finds the United States rapidly recovering from the aftermath of the world war, representative Feff, Republican from Ohio, told the house today in reviewing the first year of Harding's administration.

"One year ago Warren G. Harding found the nation with her relations with all foreign countries strained to the breaking point, her fundamental principles under discussion, her historic significance in question, her population surfeited with profits of war, and wild extravagance, her industries inflated by over expansion from war demands, and problems of reconstruction complicated and imminent," Feff said.

Today he sees peace established with all countries, foreign relations resumed with honor to ourselves and complete justice to others, and the finest attitude of the world toward our moral leadership, as evidenced in the Arms Conference.

TRI-STATE DEVELOPMENT CONVENTION MEETS AT MILWAUKEE

Many prominent speakers from these three states are on the program for the next two days.

The Great Lake waterway project will be one of the most important matters discussed.

LEGION LEADERS SATISFIED TO DROP CASH PAYMENTS

FOR BONUS PROVIDED A WORKABLE INSURANCE CERTIFICATE PLAN IS MADE

(By United Press.) Washington, March 2.—American Legion leaders here are satisfied with the house bonus subcommittee proposal to drop the cash bonus, provided a workable insurance certificate plan with the privilege of borrowing money on the certificate is substituted.

They stated this to the United Press today, adding that while they may make a protest—to keep the records—on elimination of the cash payments, they do not now plan any campaign against the proposed committee methods.

The house drafters are aiming now so that an ill or unemployed man actually requiring cash can get a loan from a bank at once, up to 50 per cent of the amount allotted to the soldiers for his term of service on one dollar a day basis.

For instance, the average soldier served 329 days and he could take his certificate to a bank and get a loan of $164.50.

If he deferred payment, the bank would then turn to the treasury and get its payments with interest back at the close of three years from the date of the passage of the bill.

The Legion leaders contend that the insurance certificates would really mean more to the average man than cash would, which he might squander. Certificates would mean something for old age, but it would tide over hard times as well.

No Cash Bonus Decided On.
Washington, March 2.—The house bonus subcommittee agreed today upon a provision eliminating all cash bonus except for ex-service men whose allotment did not exceed $50.00.

The cost of this cash payment was estimated at $16,000,000. For the others insurance certificates are to be issued with a provision that the holder could at once get a loan from a banking house up to fifty per cent of the amount of the adjusted pay noted in the document.

Acceptable to Mellon.
The new insurance bonus proposal is more acceptable to Secretary of the Treasury Mellon than previous arrangements for cash payments, it was learned at the treasury today.

Mellon has not studied the plan in full as yet, but he is said to consider the latter "the lesser of two evils."

The new scheme is considered more acceptable because it places no drain on the treasury funds.

(By United Press.) London, March 2.—The claim of Viscountess Rhonda to a seat in the house of lords was conceded today by a committee of peers. The committee, which will seat Viscountess Rhonda, the first woman to take her place in that house, held that the sex bar to hereditary titles was removed by the woman suffrage act.

EFFORT BEING MADE TO BREAK UP DRUG RING

ESTIMATED THERE ARE 400,000 DRUG ADDICTS IN COUNTRY

(By United Press.) New York, March 2.—Determined efforts to break up an international drug ring and apprehend the "brains" of the gang—who is believed implicated in the Taylor murder in Los Angeles—are being made today by thousands of narcotic police working from coast to coast.

Doctor Carleton Simon, chief of the New York narcotic division who originated the narcotic police communication system to fight the drug trade, is working in close touch with the Los Angeles authorities.

More than three hundred arrests of drug peddlers and addicts were made in New York City alone during February, Dr. Simon declared. So far this year, there have been 651 arrests. Many of those arrested are questioned about the Taylor murder.

There are estimated to be four hundred thousand drug users in the United States.

U. S. BUILD ROADS TO ENCIRCLE GLOBE

(By United Press.) Washington, March 2.—Mileage of road-building projects under construction in the United States last year, if continuously placed, would form a highway more than encircling the globe, the department of agriculture stated today. The total was estimated at 31,228 miles.

Every state in the United States shared in the benefits of 11,930 miles of highways which were constructed with federal aid. The total cost of the project will be $231,563,682. The proportion of this amount contributed by various states was $137,906,593, the remainder of $94,057,089 by the federal government.

Wholly completed roads were computed to total 8,595 miles.

Road projection in 1921 in the United States exceeded by more than 10 per cent all previously improved highway mileage in the country.

TREASURER HINES EXPLAINS STATE FINANCE PROBLEM

(By United Press.) St. Paul, March 2.—Overdraft of the state revenue funds this year will not exceed three million dollars, according to Henry Rines, state treasurer. This can be made up, Rines said, by borrowing from other state funds in the first two months of next year.

This shortage was anticipated by the last legislature, it was pointed out, when it appropriated two million dollars for the payment of bonus claims.

"The shortage will be taken care of," Rines said, "by a provision enacted by the last legislature which increased the amount which could be borrowed from other funds in case of an overdraft from six hundred thousand dollars to three million dollars."

If the shortage goes over the latter amount, it will have to be borrowed from banks in the state. This will be replaced, Rines said, by a special levy of $500,000 spread over a period of four years.

George LaFond, statistician of the treasury department, pointed out yesterday that the state this year is losing approximately six million dollars anticipated revenue.

GOVERNMENT RAIL GUARANTY ENDS

PERIOD IN WHICH ROADS ARE ENTITLED TO ASK U. S. LOANS ALSO EXPIRES

Washington, March 2.—Two important changes in government policy towards the nation's railroads became effective Wednesday.

The section of the transportation act fixing six per cent as the return on railroad properties which railroads are entitled to earn under interstate commerce commission regulations, expired yesterday. Also, the period expires during which railroads which were controlled by the government during the war are entitled to ask government loans to aid them in continuing operations after return to private management.

The six per cent clause, generally called the guard guaranty provision, is superseded by the transportation act provisions which hereafter require the interstate commerce commission to reasonable rates that will give railroads "a reasonable return on the value of property used in transportation." The commission is expected, therefore, to define for itself what earnings constitute reasonable return and to make rates accordingly.

The subject of the definition of reasonable return already has been taken up for many by the commission for the purpose of obtaining arguments from railroads and interested parties to proceedings before it in relation to rate regulation.

Applications from railroads desiring the government loans have been pouring into the commission the last few days in an endeavor to get them before the limitation began.

U. S. Corn Arrives in Russ Starvation Area

Moscow, March 2.—The first of the corn bought with the American congressional appropriation of $20,000,000, reached the actual starvation belt when a trainload arrived at Tsaritsyn, in the Saratov region, Feb. 25, according to advices to American Relief administration headquarters here.

Twenty-five trains from Novorossysk in the Black sea, are moving to hungry points. Six ships have arrived at Novorossysk and two at Odessa since Feb. 6.

The movement from the Baltic ports of corn and of rations for the starving children is being held up by the ice in the Kiel canal.

Two National Languages

(By United Press.) Asuncion (By Mail).—Paraguay, which is the smallest and most remote of the South American countries, is at the same time the only one that is the proud possessor of two national languages, both of which are official. One of them is Spanish and the other is Puarani, or tongue of the partially civilized Indians who possessed the land before the arrival of the Spaniards. Guarani is spoken everywhere, being heard on the streets as frequently as Spanish. The language is composed of short and snappy monosyllables.

CONSERVATIVES MEET TO DECIDE ATTITUDE TOWARD GOVERNMENT

BELIEVED FATE OF LLOYD GEORGE'S COALITION CABINET DEPENDS ON DECISION

(By United Press.) London, March 2.—British conservative party leaders met here today in secret session upon which the fate of Premier Lloyd George and the coalition government depend.

The session followed a conference between Austin Chamberlain, official leader of the party, and Sir George Younger, chairman of the unionist party organization, known as the "man behind the throne." The premier adherents were optimistic. They believed the conservative "die hards" are nervous.

The younger faction, they said, is beginning to realize that it is the premier's name rather than the conservative majority which is the real back bone of the coalition government.

Lloyd George's letter to Chamberlain is construed by many here as a threat to resign unless the conservatives ceased personal attacks.

The prime minister, according to leaders of the unionist party, has asked a vote of confidence, and their secret meeting today was to determine their attitude.

WOMAN ACCUSER IN TAYLOR CASE TAKEN SUDDENLY ILL

(By United Press.) Los Angeles, March 2.—Mrs. John Rupp, accuser of two men in the William Desmond Taylor murder mystery, was suddenly stricken with illness today. Authorities would not admit the illness was "mysterious."

Doctors said Mrs. Rupp had influenza symptoms. It was not held likely, however, that the drug and bootlegger ring suspected of killing Taylor would hesitate to "remove" another person considered dangerous to their interests.

Therefore, although Mrs. Rupp's illness probably is due to natural causes, her case is being watched closely.

The questioning of suspects accused by Mrs. Rupp is said to be temporarily postponed. A strict guard was kept up about the home of Mrs. Rupp where she lies ill.

Leading Actresses Being Quizzed.
Several persons prominent in the motion picture industry including two leading actresses, were quizzed today by police detectives following a new lead in the William Desmond Taylor murder mystery.

The investigators were working on an angle to the movie murder uncovered by Mrs. John Rupp's accusations against two of six alleged gangsters.

The film folk who are being quizzed were named by Mrs. Rupp as customers of the alleged ring of bootleggers and narcotic peddlers that she accuses of responsibility for the film director's death.

In addition to the actresses who are being quizzed at their homes, a well known producer also was being questioned in the hope that he could throw additional light on the matter. It is thought that some of the bootlegging customers may have heard the men under arrest threaten Taylor.

FEDERAL ACTION AGAINST BUNCO MEN CONSIDERED

(By United Press.) Washington, March 2.—Federal action to save the American people from financial "wizards," confidence men and "bunco" oil operators, who are swindling them out of a sum estimated by experts to be close to $100,000,000 a year, was planned today by the government.

The recent exposure of big swindlers in New York and Chicago, and the alleged bucket shop activities in New York, numerous failure of brokerage houses, have caused government officials to hasten the framing of their proposed campaign against the swindlers.

Legislative measures have been composed to force rigid enforcement of the blue sky laws. They were being studied by the federal trade commission and probably will be submitted to congress.

CONGRESS WILL ENACT LAWS FOR WATERWAYS

IS THE BELIEF OF GOVERNOR ALLEN, OF KANSAS—N. Y. PEOPLE FAVOR IT

(By United Press.) Washington, March 2.—Congress will enact the legislation necessary to complete the St. Lawrence river canalization project, Governor Henry J. Allen, of Kansas, believes.

"Sentiment is almost universally in favor of the project," he told the United Press just before leaving Washington following his debate on the project with Governor Nathan L. Miller, of New York, before the National Rivers and Harbors Congress.

Allen said he was confident that the ten million people of the state of New York are not in sympathy with the antagonistic stand to the project taken by the governor and business interests.

"When the matter comes to a showdown, the people of New York will side with us of the west," he said. "I believe the majority of the congressmen believe the project will confer a great blessing on the country."

FOUR MAIL POUCHES STOLEN FROM DEPOT AT KANKAKEE, ILL.

TWO MEN GRAB FOUR POUCHES WHEN UNLOADED FROM TRAIN—ESCAPE IN AUTO

(By United Press.) Kankakee, Ill., March 2.—Four pouches of registered mail believed to contain a valuable shipment worth thousands of dollars, were stolen from the baggage room of the Illinois Central station here today.

The mail had just been unloaded from a south bound train from Chicago. Baggage men carried four pouches inside the station and went back to the platform to obtain the remainder of the mail.

When they left the room, two men, who are believed to have been hiding in the station, grabbed the bags and ran for a waiting automobile. They were not noticed until the roar of the machine speeding away was heard.

An alarm was immediately sent broadcast throughout northern and central Illinois and inspectors at Chicago were placed on the trail. The amount of the loss will not be known until a check is made of the contents. All of the mail stolen was consigned to the Kankakee postoffice.

The loot obtained in the mail robbery will be under one hundred dollars, postal inspectors announced this afternoon. All the registered packages consisted of was spectacles, fountain pens and the like, they said.

SUN DODGERS OF BROADWAY

(By United Press.)

Chapter I
 New York, Mar. 1.—To any one from the unexplored void beyond the Alleghenies known in New York as "hon-est-to-Gawd West," Broadway's stage name, "The Gay White Way," must sound unusually spurious since prohibition turned the more notorious toddlers into chop suey houses and bar-rooms into lingerie bazaars.

All, all are gone, the old familiar places, or, if not gone, going at least, and going fast. Churchill's? Closed a year ago and converted into a combination chop-suey resort and billiard room. Old Captain Churchill, himself a white-haired, erect giant of a man, for many years captain of the police force, finally dismissed his little army of Balkan waiters, gave the coat-room girl her final pay and discharge papers, and demobilized his mob of expert can-openers, officially known as stewards and, if you don't believe it, they had union cards from the Geneva Association of Stewards' Union to prove it.

The Cafe de Paris? Gone and succeeded by a new and quite different resort in Rector's old stand. The Pekin, notorious in its day? The Pekin is decaying behind electric signs and there's dust on the stairs. Shanley's and Healy's still operate, but they are restaurants now. Just restaurants and the police are that skeptic, the cynics, that they take no man's word for it, but make life all the more miserable by an obtrusive system of surveillance.

Then there's Murray's. Everyone used to go to Murray's, particularly westerners from the great open spaces situated between Tenth Avenue and the Pacific littoral. Murray's was the resort of Princeton and Yale and Harvard boys en route to and from the big football games every autumn and if you came to New York and didn't dance on the famous revolving floor—you simply hadn't done New York.

The Garden at Forty-ninth Street and Seventh Avenue has closed within the last year and memories still linger about the squat, ugly building which somehow didn't seem so ugly at night in the olden days, when cabaret was cabaret and the show-girls flounced about between the tables, drinking impartially from this man's glass and that one's and chugging visiting buyers playfully between the third and fourth chairs. It was in the old Garden that Herman Rosenthal was to have been shot, as he usually dined there, but the plans of Lettie Louie, Gyp the Blood and their colleagues in this ill-conceived and poorly-executed crime were suddenly altered to accommodate the whim of the gambling king.

This is what must impress the visitor from out-of-town on revisiting New York this day after, say, three years. Broadway, still vivacious with electric-lighted smile, nevertheless is compelled to make apologies for the sort of hospitality now offered and compared with that of the old days.

But the trouble is that you're hesitating on the doorstep. Broadway is like an Englishman's home nowadays. It takes time to get it. You must be acquainted to be accepted. Don't go away mad. There's life in the old town yet. The next story will tell about the life after the death of Broadway.

NEWBERRY TO BE AN ISSUE IN MICHIGAN FIGHT

(By L. C. MARTIN.
 (United Press Staff Correspondent.)
 Washington, Feb. 28.—The home state of Truman H. Newberry will be watched intently this year by politicians and plain people alike, for they want to see what Michigan will do about Senator Townsend, one of Newberry's staunchest defenders.

Townsend is a candidate for re-nomination and re-election. As a Newberry champion, he faces the hostility of those forces within the state which opposed Newberry and brought about the attempt to prevent him being seated in the senate.

Newberry was seated by the senate, and that is something in Townsend's favor. The Republican national organization has promised him all the help he needs. He will need some help, it is admitted.

For not only will he have opposition from within his own party for the nomination, but if he is nominated he will, indications are, be confronted by a strong Democratic candidate, who will keep the Newberry scandal to the fore all through the campaign.

Townsend had no part in the Newberry campaign management. No taint of corruption or of unlawful or excessive expenditure of money clings to him. But he defended Newberry. He defied Newberry's opponents to prevent his re-election if they could. He accepted the gage of battle and the issue which Newberry's foes made.

John Emery, who for a time was national commander of the American Legion, has already entered the contest against Townsend for the Republican nomination. Emery's appeal is to the Legion and thence he will draw his strength. Whitney Watkins, progressive candidate for governor in 1912, and a former state senator, is also being boomed to tilt with Townsend in the primaries. The Newberry issue is made to order for a man like Watkins, whose political creed may be summarized in the statement that he regards William S. Kenyon of Iowa as the ideal senator.

In the background is Henry Ford, who opposed Newberry for the nomination and election in 1918, and who was the moving spirit behind the senate contest against Newberry. Ford will not be a candidate, but he will have a part in the fight. Just what that part will be nobody knows, for Ford is keeping his mouth shut and biding his time. But to him the Newberry case is not a closed incident.

The Democrats see an opportunity to capture Townsend's seat. They have two strong men eligible for the nomination. One is former Representative Frank Doremus, who voluntarily retired from the house at the end of his term. The other is former Governor Woodbridge N. Ferris, twice elected to the highest state office, and regarded as certain to give the Republican candidate an extremely close run.

Cut Rate Ship Battle

(By United Press.)
 Buenos Aires (By Mail).—With a cut rate battle waging between the British and German shipping lines, the steamship advertisements here have a tendency to appear like bargain sale announcements at times, particularly with regard to the passenger traffic on the Southampton to Buenos Aires run. One or two of the British companies led the way by reducing their prices nearly 25 per cent. Now the Germans have taken the initiative and are offering first-class passages to Southampton for 40 pounds. The first boat scheduled to sail under such an arrangement is the Hindenburg, owned by the Hugo Sinnes line.

Girl's Temperature 115

(By United Press.)
 Bristol, Eng., March 2.—A temperature of 115 degrees registered by a girl "flu" patient here is to be the subject of a report to medical authorities. A local doctor, called to the case, found her temperature to be 115. Believing his thermometer wrong, he tried two others with the same result. Special treatment was given and the temperature declined to normal. It rose again to 108, declined to normal and re-rose to 114. The girl is now convalescent.

COUNTY AHEAD $537,030 UNDER BABCOCK PLAN

State Trunk Highway Betterments Represent $585,798 Against Auto Taxes of $48,768 in County

RESULTS RATED REMARKABLE

Federal Highway Aid and Reimbursement Funds Nearly Double Tax Revenues Speed Program

Crow Wing county owners paid $48,768 of taxes in 1921 on cars and trucks and $585,798 has been used to date on trunk highways within the county under the Babcock Good Roads plan put into effect last April. No county or town funds are included.

Charles M. Babcock, state highway commissioner, explained that the large excess of disbursements over automobile tax revenue was made possible in part by the use of federal highway aid and reimbursement funds.

The figures are official, motor vehicle taxes being reported by Mike Holm, secretary of state, and highway figures approved by G. W. Brown, state public examiner.

State trunk highway fund charges in Crow Wing county which include $347,018 used in 1919-20 and $238,780 in 1921, all covering maintenance work, new construction, right-of-way, engineering and other expenses. The 1921 items follow:

T. H.	Main-	Construc-	Total
No.	Miles	tion
2	32.5	$9,012	$191,914
18	32.5	4,344	21,368
19	24.0	8,324	27
27	16.5	3,791	3,791

105.0 $25,471 $213,309 $238,780
Reimbursement charged for 1919-20 work 347,018
Trunk Highway funds used in county to date 585,798
Motor Vehicle Taxes collected in county to date 48,768
Disbursements exceed receipts to date by $537,030

Charles M. Babcock, state highway commissioner, said that the general showing was made possible in part by the use of federal highway aid and reimbursement bond funds which totaled more than double the amount of the 1921 motor vehicle taxes.

John H. Mullen, deputy commissioner and chief highway engineer, added that the largest outlays, especially those for new construction, were in counties which voted reimbursement bonds and others where the trunk routes were taken over by the state were not up to the average.

The highway executives made this statement:

"Department policies are designed to distribute new construction so that the largest number of localities may share in early, permanent benefits, and also to build up weak stretches in long mileages of otherwise good roads. Their continuance will tend to bring up individual county totals to a fair average, traffic, mileages and other conditions considered. Those with small totals last year will be most likely to lead this year, local conditions being equal. Every effort has been and is being made to give every section fair and impartial consideration."

The county figures made public this week, from reports certified by the secretary of state and public examiner, supplement the recent review of Minnesota's record of highway improvement under the new good roads program.

COUNTIES SHARE IN HIGHWAY BENEFITS

79 Out of 86 Counties Receive $5 Improvements for Every $1 Paid in Motor Vehicle Taxes

THE REIMBURSEMENT CLAIMS

Of Hennepin and Ramsey Counties Remain to be Acted Upon, Statistics Given

St. Paul, Mar. 2.—Seventy-nine out of the 86 counties in Minnesota received up to Jan. 1 more than $5 of trunk highway improvements for every dollar paid in motor vehicle taxes by owners in those counties.

The showing was taken today from trunk highway fund accounts certified by Garfield W. Brown, state public examiner, and the official 1921 motor vehicle tax collection statement issued by Mike Holm, secretary of state.

That nearly nine out of ten counties in the state have received highway betterments costing far in excess of their respective payments in automobile taxes was cited by friends of the good roads movement as evidence that the state highway department is spreading improvements that every section of the state may share early benefits under the new road development program.

Charles M. Babcock, state highway commissioner, said that the general average of more than $5 of road work for $1 of automobile taxes was made possible by the use of federal highway aid and county reimbursement bond funds in addition to the motor vehicle tax revenue. The seven remaining counties on the state list include a number which failed to authorize issues of reimbursement bonds and also some in which the trunk routes were in better condition than the general average at the time the state took over the system. Some of these are tentatively scheduled for early improvement, the commissioner said, and the policy of distributing work as fairly as possible will be continued.

Reimbursement bond funds brought many counties well above the general average, according to the official tables. The reimbursement claims of Hennepin and Ramsey counties remain to be acted upon and, no fixed totals for those counties available, estimates were taken to complete the list of 79 counties in the averages.

Averages for the listed counties were $72,000 of motor vehicle taxes compared with $375,960 of trunk highway improvements in each. The other counties showed averages of $23,547 of trunk fund charges against $39,988 of tax payments. The latter list includes Clay, Kittson, McLeod, Nicollet, Norman, Steele and Wadena counties.

Nicollet county furnished the first example of a promise of early equalization. Although its automobile owners paid $35,491 of taxes last year and the trunk highway expenditures were $23,486 in the county, bids are to be opened March 9 on improvements in Nicollet county estimated at nearly $100,000 on T. H. No. 7 and more than $40,000 on T. H. No. 15 and a further plan is to continue the grading on T. H. No. 22 from Gaylord to Norseland in Nicollet county.

While fund and other conditions may bar the addition of all counties to the big list, highway officials said, the first 2-year period will end with an even more favorable showing.

JUST ONE MORE IDLE BARTENDER

(By United Press.)

Nice, March 2.—"Smiling" Fred Martin, globe-trotting American bartender, who has mixed a cocktail in every port and is better known to many American tourists than the Eiffel tower or St. Peter's, has quit the profession.

To speak accurately, Fred has lost his job. During the summer, of late years, Fred has presided over the creation of near-absinthe fizzes at Deauville; during the winter, he has welcomed his friends from behind the "American bar" at the Municipal Casino here.

It was a bewitching young woman with a New York accent that cost Fred his place behind the Casino bar. Fred never could resist a New York accent, he says. She had lost heavily at baccarat. She knew she could win if she only had 5,000 francs more.

It is strictly forbidden for an employee of the Casino to loan money. But the accent reminded Fred of a girl he'd known in Harlem. He counted out five thousand francs, and the woman departed hopefully.

Fred never knew if she won or lost. But the Casino management found out about the matter, and Fred received the "sack."

"But never again for me," says Fred. "An American bartender is an exile, anyhow, these days. I guess I'll take my wife and my motor car and make a tour of Europe. Why work, anyhow, when one isn't appreciated?"

SANDVIG GUILTY PICKS JAIL TERM TO WRITE A BOOK

Jury Finds R-Grade Farmer Ditch Expert and Surveyor Guilty of Libel

SANDVIG LABELLED THE COURT

Undaunted Sandvig Goes to Jail to Write His Fourth Book "Cold Steel"

(St. Cloud Daily Times)

After being out for three hours last night the jury in the Sandvig libel suit returned a verdict of guilty and this morning Judge McClenahan imposed a sentence of $100 fine or 90 days in the Hennepin county jail.

Sandvig, undaunted by the outcome of the suit, selected the workhouse as his abode rather than admit to the public that he was guilty.

"I am going to serve the 90 days and shall write my fourth book on the drainage case out of which the libel suit was brought," declared the accused today. When asked what the title of his last work would be, Sandvig made the rapid reply, "I have already selected the name, 'Cold Steel,' for the last work. This I feel is appropriate and in it I hope to bring out some of the measures used to down a man who was fighting a just cause."

Sandvig was alone in the libel suit and acted as his own attorney throughout the proceedings.

Judge Shakes Hand

After declaring the sentence, Judge McClenahan extended his hand to Sandvig in congratulation of the way he had conducted himself in the court room as his own attorney. Accuser and accused parted friends.

Following the sentence, Judge McClenahan gave a short explanation of the seriousness of the libel committed by Sandvig, stating that a libel statement against an official is not a personal matter, but rather an attack upon the government he represents.

It was declared that Sandvig undoubtedly did not appreciate the seriousness of his statements, thinking of individuals rather than institutions.

Is Fourth Publication

The last endeavor of Sandvig, to be called "Cold Steel" will be his fourth work. He has a penchant for snappy names as he stated himself this morning. The titles of his other works follow in order of their publication: "The Brief of a Farmer," "The Last Ditch," and "Over the Top."

Sandvig was taken to the city police station, where he will be confined until commitment papers are obtained admitting him to the Hennepin county jail.

Upon his arrival in the city jail, the author, attorney, drainage expert and farmer, immediately asked for pen and ink in order that he might commence his 90-day task.

Case Was Peculiar

The case in many of its aspects furnished a great deal of entertainment for the packed court room. The appearance of the room itself tended to show that something unusual was taking place. There, a witness was being cross examined by the prosecuting attorney and while on the stand this man was his own attorney, defending himself for libel against a state charge.

Sandvig, attorney and defendant opened the case with the presentation of what seemed to be an inexhaustible supply of evidence. It developed, however, that the supply of evidence carried in a large suit case, was not all intended for use in this case.

The defendant attorney, after reading various extracts of the constitution of the United States, made the plea that he was not guilty of libel because the constitution granted him the privilege of free speech.

Ahles Called to Stand

One incident that attracted considerable laughter occurred when Sandvig demanded that County Attorney Ahles be placed on the witness stand. The demand was granted by Judge McClenahan and Mr. Ahles became a witness for the man he was prosecuting. Sandvig then brought out certain evidence tending to show that a few weeks ago he had communicated with the county attorney that he, as the county's legal prosecutor, commence proceeding to have the far famed "ditch of contention" filled.

Mr. Ahles objected to part of the evidence on the grounds that it had no bearing on the case at hand, but Sandvig immediately interposed, stating that as a witness the county attorney did not have the power of an attorney. The judge overruled the objection as being a witness did not deprive the prosecuting attorney of the powers of an attorney.

According to a statement made by Judge McClenahan, rarely does it occur that an attorney in the case is asked to appear on the witness stand or his opponent. The case was peculiar to the fact that the leading figures were both witnesses and attorneys.

Sandvig is a firm believer that all drainage projects are a detriment to the public and it was in the endeavor to obtain legislation prohibiting such projects, that he made libelous charges against the supreme court, the judges of this district and the county attorney.

A DEAD ISSUE

The announcement of the American Federation of Labor, declaring their intention of waging an active campaign for the election of congressmen who will vote for light wines and beer as their interpretation of the eighteenth amendment, is attracting much attention and comment. Both Republican and Democratic politicians, however, express the opinion that neither of the great political parties will make an issue of it, but that it may become of considerable importance in some localities.

As analyzed by the political leaders the cities and industrial centers are interested in seeing the sale of light wines and beer made legal, while the smaller towns and country districts generally are just the opposite. Usually cities and industrial centers in the North are Democratic—and also "wet." But despite the announcement of the American Federation of Labor, neither Republican nor Democratic leaders believe the fight will become nation-wide.

The agitation for light wines and beer may be described as "spotty." In some localities it may possibly be made an issue, but in the great majority of communities it is undoubtedly a dead question politically, and will remain so.

IMPORTANT RAILROAD DECISION

A decision was rendered by the United States Supreme Court on Monday which declares that railroad passenger fares within a state are subject to regulation by the Federal government. The court sustained the lower court, which prohibited the Wisconsin railroad commission from interfering with the Chicago, Burlington & Quincy railroad in putting into effect increases in passenger fares in state travel authorized by the Interstate Commerce Commission.

Th constitutionality of the Federal railway rate-making powers asserted in the transportation act was brought under concerted attack when the Wisconsin rate case was carried to the Supreme Court for settlement. The decision is therefore an important one, and will doubtless have a far-reaching effect in the adjustment of railroad rates.

REMARKABLE BUSINESS IMPROVEMENT

A report just issued by the Federal Reserve agent of the Ninth district shows a remarkable improvement in business confidence on the part of both farmers and merchants, based largely on the recent advances in the prices of agricultural products. "Credit conditions," says the report, "have continued to improve. Market interest rates reflected this condition by a decline of about 1/2 per cent in the month ending Feb. 15. Member banks have been paying off their borrowings at this bank. Savings deposits have increased. The investing public bought more securities in January with very satisfactory increases in the sales of farm mortgages and city mortgages, the sales of the latter being three times as large as a year ago."

FOR BOYS AND GIRLS

It is announced from the State University that all Minnesota boys and girls aged from 11 to 19, inclusive, are qualified to attend the boys' and girls' short course which will be held at the University farm April 3 to 7, inclusive.

In recent years attendance at this course has been limited to club boys and girls. The change this year undoubtedly means a large increase in the enrollment. During the course the forenoon will be given to class work, the afternoons to sightseeing tours about the two cities, and the evenings to moving picture shows and other entertainment in the big assembly room at the farm campus.

TRADE ASSOCIATION LIMITS

In the opinion of Attorney General Daugherty, the activities of the various trade associations do not contravene provisions of the Sherman anti-trust laws, unless in actual practice they develop enhanced prices, suppress competition or curtail production. This opinion of the Attorney General, expressed informally and tentatively, was made public by Mr. Hoover. He had inquired as to the legal limits within which trade associations could properly operate.

BOUNDARY DISPUTE SETTLED

The boundary dispute between Minnesota and Wisconsin has been terminated by the United States Supreme Court, in a final decree entered on Monday. The boundary in controversy extended from lower St. Louis bay to the falls in the St. Louis river. The decree was based on the line surveyed and marked by a commission under an opinion delivered by the court March 8, 1920, and the two states have approved the decision of the commission.

Tuesday last was the last day of grace for the payment of motor license taxes without the penalty of 25 cents a day, and the Secretary of State says that more than 100,000 car owners have failed to register their machines to date. Approximately $3,500,000 has been paid in by automobile owners.

The Wadena News declares that President Harding, Senator Kellogg and Congressman Knutson "are doing more actual service for the farmers of America than any other three men in Washington."

Maj. R. B. Rathbun, cashier of the Merchants' National Bank at Detroit, Minn., has been appointed State Superintendent of Banks, succeeding S. B. Duea, who resigned about a month ago.

Bankers and Scrubwomen Bid Farewell to Landis

Chicago, March 2—"Anything to say? Not much. Just let the curtain fall. I'm sorry to go, of course. My friends have been generous. I hate to leave them. I've done my best according to my lights, where I've been, and I'll keep on trying to do it. And I guess that's all."

Judge Kenesaw Mountain Landis, the white haired "hell cat of the federal court," thus said goodbye to 17 years service on the bench. Bailiffs had to do siege duty at the doors of his courtroom to handle the important federal officials. Negro elevator men, famous lawyers, bankers, wounded soldiers and scrubwomen who scrambled for the opportunity to say farewell to the judge. Among others were a dozen white haired men some of them scarcely able to hobble in. They were given preferred places and unusual attention as old time friends of the "judge."

One aged man arose from a sickbed against physicians' orders. He received a gentle scolding from Judge Landis, who assured him he had intended to come to his home and visit him as soon as he was free.

The last day of Landis' court was characteristic of all others. The last case was on, and the evidence was in. Jumping electrically from his huge chair, his pugnacious jaw set grimly, his terrifying eyebrows fairly bristling, the judge bestowed upon one of two men a long, long glare. Then the deadly forefinger came slowly up until it had been leveled like a pistol at the heads of two culprits quailing at the bar.

Fine of 1 Cent and $5,000.

"For you," the cutting voice drawled at the nearer man, "the sentence will be a fine of—1 cent. You tried to do right!"

"But for you," as the forefinger swung to the other man—"it will be $5,000!"

A gavel banged. The forefinger was withdrawn. The lethal glare relaxed. Judge Landis had finished his career on the federal bench and stepped down to shake hands with the crowd in the room.

The two men upon whom he passed sentence as his final act, are Abraham Paley and Jacob Grossman, owners of the Empire theater, and evaders of the federal amusement tax.

Rapid Fire Decisions

Paley, the prosecutor told the court, had attempted restitution. Grossman had refused to pay anything.

Judge Landis made his decision instantly: 1 cent for the man who had tried to square himself; $5,000 for his unwilling partner.

Judge Landis wound up his career on the bench by disposing of 10 cases in rapid fire order. In the words of a court attendant, he was "1,000 per cent Landis!"

After the final sentence, Judge Landis said:

"Mr. Bailiff, are there any more cases?"

"None, your honor," was the reply.

"Court," began the judge. He arose and for several seconds stood looking around the room. Then he continued: " * * * is adjourned."

The judge stalked into his chambers without a word and a few minutes later dozens of friends who jammed their way in found him sitting in the corner on an old packing box talking to his son, Reed.

Refuses to Return to Bench

Asked to pose on the bench for photographers, the judge said: "I shall never return to the bench. If you want to photograph me, do it here."

The judge was particularly hard on Volstead act violators at his final session of court. Owners of three buildings he had closed because they held saloons were refused permission to reopen.

"Your honor," said one attorney "the owner of this building didn't know there was a saloon in it and besides, he won a distinguished service medal in the war and—"

"When you start citing war records you evidently are afraid to try your case on its merits," interjected the judge, "and why didn't he know it was a saloon? He went in there twice a month to collect rent."

"Of Course He Knew."

To another attorney who said the owner didn't know a saloon was in his building, he said:

"Why that place had swinging doors, sawdust on the floor, a footrail and spittoons that no one ever hit. Of course he knew it was a saloon."

"The only difference from the well known good old days was that this fellow charged 75 cents a drink instead of 10 cents. Motion denied."

In a third case, the attorney said: "Your honor, the case here is the alleged sale of two glasses of whiskey—"

"You mean the pretended sale of two glasses of alleged whiskey," interposed the judge. "One year and $1,000 fine for the alleged matter."

After shaking hands with scores of persons who came to bid him goodbye, the judge walked across the street to the little lunch counter where he has eaten his midday meal for 17 years.

"Swiss on rye and milk the cow for the government," shouted the waitress as he entered, and a moment later the judge was sitting on a high stool eating his usual noon repast—a Swiss cheese sandwich on rye bread and a glass of milk.

That's lumbago, sciatica, or maybe from a strain, and you'll get relief the moment you rub your back with soothing, penetrating St. Jacobs Oil. Nothing else takes out soreness, lameness and stiffness so quickly. You simply rub it on your back, and out comes the pain. It is harmless, and doesn't burn the skin. Limber up! Don't suffer! Get a small trial bottle of old, honest St. Jacobs Oil from any drug store, and after using it just once you'll forget that you ever had backache, lumbago or sciatica, because your back will never hurt, or cause any more misery. It never disappoints, and has been recommended for 60 years. Adv.

AMUSEMENTS

Viola Dana in "Home Stuff" at Lyceum

The outstanding announcement of the week, so far as the photoplay is concerned, is the announcement of a new Viola Dana picture. The vehicle is "Home Stuff," which will be shown at the Lyceum Theatre last time tonight, as the feature attraction.

The screen boasts no more talented personality than Miss Dana. For those who have seen her, praise is superfluous; but for those yet to experience their first delights in seeing her perform, the advice to behold her in shadowland will certainly not be deemed superlative.

In "Home Stuff" Miss Dana has the stellar role of Madge Joy, leading lady of a cheap road show, which suddenly comes to a standstill in a little town for want of funds. Chance puts in her way both refuge of a cozy farm, where she comes to live as one of the family, and the love of a young farmer.

"Family Night" at Lyceum Friday

A strong, dramatic picture of a house divided against itself—of brother against brother—told against a realistic background, is offered in "Women Who Wait," the feature showing Friday at the Lyceum Theatre with a cast that features Marguerite Clayton, Creighton Hale and George MacQuarrie.

This is a story of fisher-folk of a New England village, and revolves around the conflict of two brothers—one whose nature is vicious; the other, tender and true. Into their lives enters a girl who is loved by both, although the wicked brother triumphs through treachery. In the end, however, the good brother wins the girl whose love has waited through the years.

"With Stanley in Africa" Friday

No more thrilling events ever happened in the world's history than the famous and daring safari of Captain Henry M. Stanley into the wilds of Central Africa from Zanzibar in 1871 to rescue the lost explorer, Dr. David Livingstone.

The stealthily approaching sentinels armed with blow pipes and poisoned darts, the weird incantations of voodoo fanatics, the savage rites of blood-mad cannibals, the privations suffered from pestilence, hunger, thirst and marauding bands of cruel natives are known to the present generation only by picturesque accounts in history and in the works of Paul du Chailu.

Accurate and blood-stirring moving pictures of just such an expedition are to be seen Friday at the Lyceum Theatre when the second installment of "With Stanley in Africa," the Universal continued feature, co-starring George Walsh and Louise Lorraine, is to be shown.

"With Stanley in Africa" is written around the heroic expedition of Captain Henry M. Stanley in 1871 into the heart of the Dark Continent to rescue the lost English explorer, Dr. David Livingstone. It is the most entertaining and thrilling continued picture ever shown here.

The child of a father over fifty years of age has ten times as good a chance of becoming eminent as he would if his father were a younger man.

Mabel Normand in Mack Sennett's "Molly O."

Miss Normand at New Park

Seldom has a star been surrounded by a more congenial cast than that engaged to support Mabel Normand by Mack Sennett in his production of "Molly O," the first National attraction which will be the feature at the New Park tonight and tomorrow. Two factors entered into the selection of the actors and actresses who appear in the more important roles—the prime one of course being their ability to portray the role, but secondarily their temperament was given careful consideration.

Mr. Sennett was embarking upon the attainment of an ideal when he put "Molly O" on the production schedule of his studio. Mabel Normand to play the title role and F.

SULPHUR IS BEST TO

CLEAR UP UGLY SKIN

Irritation and Breaking Out Often Healed Over Night, Says Skin Specialist

Any breaking out or skin irritation on face, neck or body is overcome quickest by applying Menthosulphur, says a noted skin specialist. Because of its germ destroying properties, nothing has ever been found to take the place of this sulphur preparation that instantly brings ease from the itching, burning and irritation.

Menthosulphur heals eczema right up, leaving the skin clear and smooth. It seldom fails to relieve the torment or disfigurement. A little jar of Menthosulphur may be obtained at any drug store. It is used like cold cream.

INDOOR CARNIVAL BY EASTERN STAR

Assisted by Members of Aurora Lodge,
A. F. & A. M. Friday and Saturday this Week

VARIOUS BOOTHS DESIGNATED

Committees Have Worked Under Direction of General Chairman Mrs.
J. P. Anderson

The indoor carnival which is to be staged by the ladies of Alpha Chapter, Order of Eastern Star, assisted by members of Aurora Lodge, A. F. & A. M., has attracted the attention of the members of the two societies already named. And not only these will be present to assure a large attendance, but many others from adjacent towns will be in the city on Friday and Saturday of this week to take in the big show. The purpose of the carnival is to raise money to furnish the Masonic home, located near the Twin Cities in beautiful and extensive grounds overlooking the river, in which the aged of the order may pass their declining years in such comfort and with such attendance as could not be secured when living alone.

The ladies of Alpha Chapter are to be commended for the interest and energy they have expended in arranging for the carnival. The committees have worked with splendid cooperation under the direction of the chairman of the general committee on the carnival—Mrs. J. P. Anderson.

The program as outlined reads as follows: Van Raalte (for ladies only) Mae Belle Grewcoy in charge, assisted by Mrs. G. S. Swanson and Mrs. G. W. Grewcoy. Trip to Havana (for men only) Harry Kroes in charge. Fish Pond: Marie Stein in charge, assisted by Esther Gustafson. Jitney Dance: Bert Kyo in charge with dancing both evenings from 9 to 12. Home Made Candies Booth: Mrs. Bert Kyo in charge. Novelties: Mrs. Herbert Peterson in charge, assisted by Mrs. Clarence Forsberg. Swimming Match: A. C. Ebert in charge: Contest between Barbara Armstrong and Miss Hillstead of the Annette Kellerman troupe. Waffle Demonstration. For the purpose of this demonstration L. R. Tanner has donated a sack of Pillsbury flour. Mr. and Mrs. B. E. Dunham who will be in charge will use the Westinghouse electric irons.

Fortune Tellers. Two experts who are in charge of this booth and who are noted "Seers" will tell of the Past, Present and Future.

Animal Show under the direction of Madame Zamoyksi.

And lest anything that might minister to the satisfaction of those present should be missed, the committee have secured Mrs. Golemboske to preside over the serving of a lunch consisting of coffee and doughnuts, the coffee for this purpose—that is for drinking—having been donated by Gown Lennin Brown of Duluth.

The callers who will doubtless put the "barkers" of the big tented shows to shame are J. P. Anderson, J. F. Elkins and A. C. Ebert. In sonorous, rolling, tumbling and falling voices of unusual cadence, the events will be announced. Those present will never be left in doubt as to the next happening.

Members of the Masonic Order and of the Order of Eastern Star will be admitted together with their families. Others may gain admission when accompanied by a member of either of the societies named, but not otherwise.

This big event inspired by a noble purpose will take place in the Masonic rooms in the Iron Exchange Building on Friday and Saturday evenings of this week with doors open at 7:30 each evening.

IF IS YOU

If you want to live in the kind of a town,

Like the kind of a town you like,

You needn't slip your clothes in a grip

And start on a long, long hike.

You'll only find what you left behind.

For there's nothing that's really new.

It's a knock at yourself when you knock your town.

It isn't your town—it's you.

Real towns are not made by men afraid

Lest somebody else gets ahead.

When everyone works and nobody shirks

You can raise a town from the dead.

And if, while you make your personal stake,

Your neighbor can make one, too,

Your town will be what you want to see.

It isn't your town—it's you.

J. E. ERICKSON HEIFER MAKES WORLD RECORD

WONDERFUL PRODUCTION OF
SENIOR YEARLING IS SENSATION OF DAIRY WORLD

Daisy Aaggie Ormsby 3d, a Holstein heifer owned by John Erickson, of Waupaca, Wisconsin, has just completed a year's record as a senior yearling that makes her the world's champion butter producing cow of her age. She produced in 365 days, 22-151.3 pounds of milk and 879.63 pounds of butterfat or the equivalent of 1088-29 pounds of butter. The former champion St. Maw's Lad's Lady, a Jersey owned in Oregon, had to her credit 11,756 pounds of milk and 829.09 pounds of butterfat. It can easily be seen that Mr. Erickson's heifer was returned the champion by a wide margin.

Not only has she broken the world's record for butter production for heifers of her age, but she also completed a series of records that class her among the leading cows of the world not only among Holsteins but among cows of all breeds. While she is not yet three years old she has to her credit two world championships as well as five state records, more than any heifer of any breed that ever lived that freshened at less than two years of age.

She is a daughter of Sir Pieter Ormsby Mercedes 37th, Mr. Erickson's former herd sire whose daughters have been in the limelight ever since they freshened on account of their wonderful production coupled with their outstanding individuality. He now stands at the head of a large herd in Minnesota. Daisy Aaggie Ormsby, the dam of the subject of this article, was a daughter of King Hengerveld Pieter Ormsby who also was a former herd sire on the Erickson farm. Her maternal grand dam was a great granddaughter of Colantha 4th Johanna who was the only cow in the world to hold all records for both milk and butter from one day to one year.

Freshening at the tender age of one year eleven months and thirteen days she proceeded to step out and not only break the state butter seven day record for senior yearlings, but the milk record as well, her figures being 415.8 pounds of milk and 23.48 pounds of butter. Continuing on yearly test she proceeded to break the world's record as has been stated and as a result of her heavy milk production coupled with her butter production, she is now the holder of the world's championship for combined milk and butter, as well as the holder of the state records for 365 days for butter and milk. She surpasses by a margin of over 75 pounds the former state title holder, Walcomis Ollie Moore, who for several years has held the butter record for heifers freshening at less than two and one-half years of age.

During the entire time that this wonderful heifer has been on test, she has never missed a feed and according to Vidian Vy, Mr. Erickson's herdsman, who fed and milked this world's champion while she was making this wonderful record, he has never handled a cow who responded as well as did this sensational yearling. That her production was even throughout her entire test period is shown by the fact that she qualified for a retest during every month while she was rolling up the enormous amount of milk and butterfat that made her the world's champion.

All of Waupaca, Waupaca county and the state of Wisconsin have every reason to be proud of Mr. Erickson and his champion heifer, for working hand in hand they have brought to this county one of the most coveted championships that the entire world affords.

Readjustment of Service Men's Pay to Save $13,000,000

(By United Press.)

UNCLE SAM IS PAYING OFF HIS WAR DEBT NOW

(By United Press.)
Washington, March 2.—Uncle Sam, recovering from his orgy of war spending, is paying off his war debt to the American people.

More than twenty-six billion dollars borrowed by the old man from his nieces and nephews to fight the war and to help his Allies is being paid off at a rate which has just reached $130,000,000 a month. At the present rate of progress the next generation will be relieved of the vexatious tax burdens that follow all warfare.

At the end of 1921 the gross public debt of the United States was but $23,438,984,351. To offset this, Uncle Sam had a cash balance in the treasury of $487,767,529, leaving him in the hole almost $23,000,000,000 net. Just a year ago the war debt was practically $24,000,000,000, and there was half a billion in the treasury. At its peak the war debt, or more correctly the gross total debt, was $26,596,701,648.

All of this money was taken from the American people in return for liberty bonds, victory notes and other securities. It will go back to the people over a long period of years.

Nearly a billion dollars of the Victory Loan, represented in Victory notes, has been paid off in the past two years. In all the government sold four and a half billion dollars worth of these notes after hostilities ceased. There were outstanding at the end of 1921, slightly over three and a half billion dollars in these securities. Millions of dollars worth were brought in by the Treasury at a profit and destroyed through sinking fund operations. Others were received as patriotic gifts, and millions were received in estate taxes.

Treasury experts agree that good financial practice demands retirement of at least 60 per cent of the entire issue on or before maturity in April, of next year. This means that Uncle Sam will have to find the means to pay off by that time at least another billion dollars and a half. This might be done with comfort were it not for the fact that there are outstanding treasury certificates and other securities, including treasury notes and war savings certificates, in an aggregate amount of two and a half billion with maturities falling due ahead of the Victory loan.

This means that the Treasury will have to continue the issue from time to time of short term notes, which will fund the floating indebtedness represented in the Treasury certificates.

Despite this situation and the handicaps faced in congressional unwillingness to meet treasury plans, Uncle Sam is doing very well. He has borrowed on treasury certificates a billion and a half against this year's tax receipts, but good management will wipe this out unless a soldier bonus bill is passed or some other heavy expenditure encountered.

The treasury is in fact in the best position it has occupied since the early days of the war. The necessity for paying off tax certificates maturing, and of retiring Victory notes can be met through the issue of blocks of new short time notes which will spread the maturities, and this is the announced treasury plan. If all goes well Uncle Sam will owe a billion dollars less at the beginning of the next New Year, than he does now.

WOOD SAVES LIVES OF MANY DOGS

(By United Press.)
Manila, P. I., March 2.—The Igorotes are going to quit eating dogs. Igorote chiefs, meeting recently with Governor General Leonard Wood, promised they would give up the food that made them famous, for the more highbrow food of goats and sheep. "The Philippines became too well known, and disreputably so, when they demonstrated their dog-eating proclivities at the fairs in the United States years ago," Governor Wood told the chiefs. "They gave the world the impression that they were the real type of the Filipino."

The dog market at Baguio, in the mountain provinces of North Luzon island, is one of the show places of the Philippines. Every Sunday morning all the big and little Igorotes gather from their hillside homes and barter in dogs. The leaner the dog, the better chow he makes and the higher prices he brings. The eater buys the leanest dog, fattens him on rice for several days—and then roasts him as he is.

"You folks are beyond this primitive, stone-age stuff," Governor Wood said. "Citizens of America think of the Igorotes when they think of the Filipino. And we're not."

LIKE AMERICANS BECAUSE THEY SPEND FREELY ON RIVIERA

(By United Press.)
Nice, March 2.—A squirt down any page of a Riviera fashionable hotel's register is like picking the cast of characters for a dramatization of "Who's Who."

Only this year anybody would think he had stumbled into the American edition.

More and more Americans have been coming to spend all or part of their winters along the colorful bays of the Riviera. Although the fashionable winter population of Cannes, Nice, Monte Carlo, Beaulieu and Menton continues to be predominantly English, each season finds more and more Americans of all the sorts that travel—idly wealthy, pleasure seekers, lovers of color and the artistic, or just tired business men searching relaxation from worries, winter and wineliness in Europe's playground.

It's easy to pick out the Americans along the Promenade des Anglais, Nice's fashionable sea-skirt boulevard, along Cannes' even more exclusive La Croisette, or in the Casino gardens at Monte Carlo. They are dressed in the very latest Parisian frocks and English cut suits which they have probably brought from New York. They "sight-see" with a grim determination to leave nothing unseen. They go in with a vim for tennis, golf, horse racing, yachting, motoring and other sports, but eschew pigeon shooting. Not unfrequently, after they have been acclimated two weeks, they take into tow an English Lord or two whose accent they cultivate.

The "season" on the Riviera is not as good as it was last year, largely due to exorbitant prices, and Americans are welcomed to help fill in the leaner year. Americans mean to the native rooms with private bath, champagne suppers, no quibbling about "extras" on the bill, and a predilection to be "stung." Among scores of other notable Americans recent visitors include: Mr. and Mrs. Perry Belmont, Mr. and Mrs. Anthony J. Drexel of New York, Mr. and Mrs. Hobart Chatfield-Taylor of Chicago. At Cannes, too, was George Harvey, American ambassador to England with Mrs. Harvey and Ellis Loring Dresel, United States charge d'affaires of Berlin. Among notable and interesting hotel guests at Nice have been during the season Mr. and Mrs. George H. Dougherty of New York, Major General Henry Allen from Coblenz, Brigadier General William Mitchell, Mr. and Mrs. Joel Hillman, Atlantic City. At Monte Carlo have been Marc Klaw, Mrs. Ernest Thompson Seton, Mr. and Mrs. Winchell Smith, Mr. and Mrs. Adolph Ochs, and former Ambassador Leishman. Mr. and Mrs. Klaus Spreckles have a villa at Cape Ferrat. Mary Garden is expected in Monte Carlo in April.

EAST AND WEST CLASH AT ANNUAL RIVERS CONGRESS

(By JAMES T. KILBERT
(United Press Staff Correspondent.)
Washington, Mar. 1.—Agricultural, banking and commercial interests of the east and west clashed here today in a bitter fight on the proposed Great Lakes-to-the-sea waterway at the 17th annual convention of the National Rivers and Harbors Congress.

Eastern interests oppose the project for fear it will mean the loss of a huge slice of their ocean business. Western interests frankly admit that deepening of the St. Lawrence river will benefit the farmers and business men of the middle west and west to the extent of hundreds of millions of dollars annually, by giving them a direct outlet to the ocean.

Friends of the project believe they have the preponderance of strength at the convention and expect to not only keep the organization from going on record against the proposal, but to adopt a resolution endorsing it. Opponents of the project fought it in the resolutions committee and then planned a direct and a flank movement on the floor in the hope of succeeding in one maneuver. One move calls for the convention to adopt a resolution against the project and the other is designed to put it on record against the expenditure of money by the United States government on waterway development outside the country.

Proponents of the St. Lawrence project will fight both with the utmost vigor. John Barrett, former director of the Pan-American Union, and now working in the interest of American foreign trade expansion, has issued a warning against a business war between the east and west.

"The arraying of the east against the west," he said, "in a bitter conflict will effect unfavorably all phases of legislation and financial and commercial relations essential to national prosperity."

Speakers at the convention include

St. Paul, Minn.—"During twenty-two years while bringing up my family I have depended greatly upon Dr. Pierce's remedies to keep up my strength, and in no instance have they ever disappointed me. It was during my first expectant period that I discovered the wonderful benefits of 'Favorite Prescription' to the prospective mother and I then resolved never to go through the trying months of expectancy without the help of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. I have taken it during four such periods as a tonic and nerve, and can honestly say that it not only kept me in good health by I had comparatively no suffering. I believe my babies were benefited, too."—Mrs. Mary E. Charter, 1018 E. Fourth St.

The Truth About the "Flu"

How To Ward Off and Prevent Infection

"Flu" History

The 1918 epidemic of influenza showed that the disease was one easily contracted, it is limited to human beings; it is due to micro-organisms yet to be identified. Mental condition will not cause the disease—so don't worry.

Disease Transmitted

The causative agent of the disease is given off from the nose and mouth of infected persons, and gains entrance through the nose and mouth of persons who contract the disease—there is no other way in which the disease is transmitted.

Cold and "Flu" Germs

Cold, "Flu" and Pneumonia Germs multiply by the millions and are liable to overpower your physical resistance.

Do not neglect the slightest cold—here the greatest danger lies—that "simple cold." Kill that cold quickly.

It is of vast importance to clean out the entire intestinal tract, upper and lower bowels. Keep the kidneys well flushed, and freshen and strengthen the blood.

Experience Has Taught

The experience of the 1918 epidemic, showed that one of the best and simplest treatment in many instances was to stimulate the entire blood circulation by taking a steaming hot cupful of Bulgarian Blood Tea with the juice of half a lemon.

This stimulating hot medical Tea is pleasant to take and starts the stomach, bowels, liver and kidneys, throwing out the body poisons, thus increasing the physical resistance to overpower the dreaded germs. Bulgarian Blood Tea is a pure herb medicine of rare power for old and young of either sex and should be in every home as a necessary first aid remedy. Physicians and druggists everywhere highly recommend it.
